The POST Extra created quite a flutter among the paper money people on Thursday.

The election on Tuesday last was one of the quietest that ever took place in this city.

By request of many friends we will publish in our next the very able lecture delivered some months ago by Dr. Mendelsohn, on "Hell."

The Right Rev. Bishop Kean, of Richmond, delivered a lecture to the colored people at the Opera House on Friday night, on Catholicism.

We respectfully call the attention to the article on Strawberries in another column. It is of importance to those who are raising this delicious fruit.

Senator Merrimon made a very conservative and able speech at the City Hall, in this city, on Monday last. The Senator made many friends while here

William Tucker a very able and highly respectable colored citizten of this city, died very suddenly and very mysteriously on Thursday night last.

There was a brief street fight in front of our office last night, but we did not take the trouble to learn the names. See Mayor's court on Monday.

The Williston School House corner of 7th and Ann streets, was entered on Thursday night, and robbed of a lot of books, papers, &c. Entrance was effected by means of a false key.

MAJ. JAS. A. ENGELHARD.—The many Democrutic friends of this gentleman intend to press his claims for the nomination for Governor at the next Democratic State Convention.

Colloquy between a Republican and a prominent Democrat on Thursday last: Republican to Democrat:—"What have you got?" (meaning what political news had he.)

Democrat looking up with sadness:—As usual, "A black eye."

Col. O. H. Blocker, Chairman of the Third Congressional District Republican Committee, was in this City during the past week. The campaign seems to have improved him.

The U. S. District Court convened in this city on last Monday and remained at work for four days, and adjourned on Friday afternoon. No cases of importance come up for trial.

DISTINGUISH VISITORS.—We were pleased to meet in our city the past week Hon. G. W. Brooks, Judge U. S. District Court; Hon. J. W. Albertson, U. S. District Attorney; J. B. Hill, U. S. Marshal; Col. Francis M. Sorrill, Secretary Republican State Executive Committee, and Maj. Jos. A. Engelhard Secretary of State. All these gentlemen were in splendid health.

We read the news of the election in Washington Territory, away up in the extreme north west of the United States, and every day's news from Calcutta we read here the next day. But we did not get the returns from Onslow and Harnett until four days after election. Any common mule could have walked from the most remote precinct in either of these counties to a railroad station in less than ten hours. But we were reading news from Afghanistan before we got the election news from Onslow.

THE UNION IS STILL SAFE.

LECTURE OF THE RT. REV BISHOP KEAN, AT THE OPERA HOUSE, FRIDAY NIGHT—Right Rev. Bishop Kean, a Roman Catholic Prelate, distinguished as an orator and a man of great ability and learning, on Friday night, in response to the invitation of Messrs. Joseph E. Sampson, J. C. Hill, W. K. Price, Anthony Howe, Geo. L. Mabson and A. P. Howe, leading colored men of this city, delivered a very eloquent and impressive lecture, taking for his subject the history of the Catholic Church, and explanative of its teachings and doctrines.

There was a goodly number of our colored citizens present and also a large number of our white citizens, seats having been especially provided for the latter, though the lecture was mainly intended for the former.

The Right Rev. lecturer, in his impassioned and eloquent style, gave a short account of the prosperity and success of the colored Catholic of Baltimore, and Washington, D. C., of their fine churches and orgins, trained choirs and excellent free schools, some of which were presided over by colored Sisters of Charity, where young women of the colored race received first class religious and secular educations. He stated that one of the objects his administration of the Catholic interests diocese, would be to advance the spiritual welfare of the colored race and open to them all the advantages enjoyed by the Catholics of the colored race of the cities of Baltimore and Washington.

The Bishop then gave a lengthy, but highly interesting explanation of the doctrines and teachings of the Catholic Church; stated that within her fold there was no discrimination on account of wealth or race, that all partook at the same communion rail. He spoke of the sacrament of the Church, quoted the scriptual authority for them, claimed that the Catholic Church was the divinely appointed teacher to man, gave a summary of his doctrine regarding the Virgin Mary, stated that Catholics did not adore her, but gave her honor as being the mother of Christ.

He showed from argument and illustration what was the influence for good of the Catholic Church, and finally closed his lecture after an exceedingly eloquent and beautiful exhortation "for peace among all men."

We venture the assertion that our colored friends were very thankful to this learned man for a couple of hours pleasantly spent, and we can bear witness that they were much impressed by the marked attention they paid. We have never seen an audience more respectful and appreciative, and we are sure the good Bishop carried away with him the pleasant impressions of our colored people.

DANIEL L. RUSSELL elected to Congress by 600 majority from the Third N. C. District.

JAMES O'HARA, Republican, elected in the Second District by 3,700 majority.

THE EIRST DISTRICT.

ELIZABETH CITY, Nov. 9, 1878.

Martin's majority in the district 162. Democratic canvassers in Pasquotank, Pertie and Martin threw out 368 votes. These were justly ours and would have made our majority 530.

P. JOHN.

MARTIN ELECTED.

The good news in a telegram from Palemon John, editor of the Elizabeth City North Carolinian, our candidate for Congress, Mr. Martin is elected. Hurrah! for the Albermarle! Three Republican members from North Carolina.

RASCALITY IN THE SECOND DISTRICT.

The poll-holders, we learn, have thrown out of the count in the Second District, Edgecombe, Halifax, Warren and other counties, and thus claim the election of Kitchen, Democrat. We shall see.

WILMINGTON POST;—Official return of board of canvassers for Brunswick county; Russell, 697; Waddell, 433; Russell's majority, 264.

ASA ROSS.

The American Flag waves over the home of the free.

SMITHVILLE, N. C., Nov. 5, 1878.

EDITOR POST:—The election is progressing quietly and harmoniously and there is no probability of a disturbance whatever. Many rumors have been circulated that there would be no election in this county, such, I think, and I know to be unfounded. The Magistrates from each township in this county met at Lockwoodsfolly on last June, I think about the 15th, and ordered (after having appointed the poll holders for the different townships) that the said poll holders should act in both elections, that is for the election held in August last, and that which is being held to-day. From some cause or other, the poll, or registration books for northwest township was left in the register's office here until within a few days ago when sheriff Taylor took it, and delivered it to the proper person. It is quite likely that the polls will be open in that township, but the returns may be thrown out. Such will be a loss to our candidate.

There is but little interest, or concern manifested in this election by either party. The Greenbackers, with only one exception that I know of, will vote solid for Russell. Several Democrats will not go to the polls, and there are some of that party who have already voted for the Greenbacker. The action of the late Board of Canvassers, gave the death blow to Democracy in this county. Time cannot resurrect it, I will give you the returns of the different townships as soon as I can.

GREENBACKER.

THE WILMINGTON POST.

WILMINGTON, N. C.,
SUNDAY MORNING, NOV. 10, 1878.

WANTED—A LEADER.

THERE never was a party in any State in the American Union in the condition of the Republican party of North Carolina to-day. With an army of one hundred and ten thousand voters it is without a head or leader, and its legions are demoralized and scattered, in all parts of the State, carrying on a guerilla fight without unanimity or concert of action, against a united and well-disciplined enemy, and at the same time bush-whacking each other. This has been the fault of its former leaders. While victory perched upon its banners, a perfect organization was had, and that party was united as one man, but at the first disaster it met with, the leaders withdrew their battalions, dissensions followed, and the rank and file have fought at random ever since.

To quit the metaphor, the party has been laboring at cross-purposes ever since the last gubernatorial campaign. The leaders have refused to forget old grudges and bury their jealousies, and unite on a common platform. They have thought more about who should control in the party organization of the State, or of commanding a little influence at Washington, than they have of party success; and they have kept up their individual feuds until disorganization prevails almost everywhere within our borders. No party ever before so inconsistently surrendered after so glorious a campaign, because of a single disaster, nor would the Republican party of North Carolina if the leaders had acted becomingly. Two campaigns have now passed without organization, or any but local, spasmodic effort to regain what has been lost by mismanagement. There would not be fifty-six democratic majority in the next General Assembly had the party called a convention last summer and effected a re-organization. It is time we had aroused ourselves to the necessity of perfect harmony and unity of action; The rank and file of the party are still true to their principles, and we really believe, if leading individuals will only agree to bury their grudges and jealousies, and let the party once more organize throughout the State, under the national leadership of GRANT, we will redeem the State, and rout the democracy everywhere.—Asheville Pioneer.

"Our hind sight is better than our fore sight." If the Asheville Pioneer and other Republican papers in North Carolina had stood by the POST, when it was advocating a straight-out Republican ticket, and had the western members of the State Executive Committee stood by our Mr. Canaday, the representative on the State Committee from the Wilmington or Third Congressional District, when he fought squarely, and against the balance of the Committee of the state, for a Republican ticket, we believe that we should, to-day, have a Republican Supreme Court and, at least, four Republican members of Congress would have been elected on the 5th day of November instant. The editor of this paper worked, both thro' the columns of the POST and individually, for a Republican ticket; but those from the middle and western sections of North Carolina were against him. Though we had no Republican candidates for the Supreme Court, (which to a very great extent disorganized the party in the District,) the member from the Pioneer's own District was opposed to a straight ticket.

We believe the party was never stronger in North Carolina than it is to-day, had we a bold Committee, who were willing to make a battle. By an offensive warfare on the rotten carcass of the Democracy, had we men in this state who were willing to sacrifice personal influence and ambitions, we feel very certain this State could and would be relieved from the corruption of the present despoilers—Vance and his gang.

Now, Mr. Pioneer, we are glad to welcome you in joining us in this fight, and we pledge ourselves to stand squarely up for the honor and integrity of the Republican party, sink or swim, rise or fall. Let us stand by the old Republican ship until she is conducted safely into the harbor, and the old Union flag once more waves over the Capitol at Raleigh.

We call upon all the Republican papers in North Carolina, and request the Republican party everywhere, in this State, to organize and hold our forces together. We believe that our Chairman of the State Committee, Colonel Thomas B. Keogh, who has, under all circumstances, done his full duty by his party, should address the party of the state through the Republican press, and let them know that the impression which has gone out that the State Committee has disbanded the Republican party is wrong, and the township, county and district committees should be kept organized.

In the Fourth—Davis, (dem) will be re-elected, defeating Turner, (brindle-tail,) and Jones, (rep). A different result might have been had in this district but for the machinations of Col. I. J. Young, the revenue collector of that district, and his immediate friends. Young was the defeated republican candidate two years ago. Through his influence the district has been given away. A republicon could have been elected easily; but in order to retain the control of federal patronage in the district, and a certain influence at Washington, which is conceded to the republican candidate, elected or defeated, Young preferred a "brindle-tail," whom he knew could not supplant him, and by trickery, and through his revenue employees, prevented the nomination of a republican candidate until it was too late for success, but not too late to prevent the election of "Brindle-Tail Joe."—Asheville Pioneer.

As will be seen, we clip the above from the Asheville Pioneer, our valuable trans-montane contemporary. We endorse every word of it. We sincerely believe that the Republicans would have carried the 4th District if Col. Young had done his duty by his party, instead of doing his utmost to disband it. The time has come when Republicans should not be trifled with, and we very much misjudge them if they do not take proper steps to show their displeasure to those Republicans in this state who are responsible for the Republican defeat on the 5th day of November, 1878.

A POLITICAL HURRICANE AT THE NORTH.

Never did a more merciless cyclone sweep over the Democratic party of the north than the late diversified wrecking. In New York city Tammany was overturned, as was Belshazzar, king of the Chaldeans. In the State of New York, the State ticket, the General Assembly, and twenty-two members of Congress were elected triumphantly. Pennsylvania declared for Republicans by 30,000 majority. Massachusetts buried General Butler beneath a vote of 40,000. New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Connecticut elected their State tickets, their Legislatures, and made gains in Congress. The great Northwest in deep reverberations, garnering legislatures, State governments and Congressmen. This splendid vindication of Republican principles, and the Republican party, also, bears with it the verdict of the people of the north upon Southern affairs. It is not idle, it is not thoughtlessness, it is not indifferent bewilderment, it is not an accident, that the public sentiment of the North has risen up and put forth these magnificent utterances, and exhibited these gigantic forces.

What does this remarkable uprising signify? Admitted that there are, behind this great demonstration, more than one single idea, or group of ideas. The motive power which impelled this decisive action was not, it is true, a unit, but it was a broad and various aggregate—a powerful combination of moral forces. It comprehended the Republican measures and principles to which those great communities have been educated since 1861. It comprehended the whole volume of national integrity and supremacy; it meant an honest and stable currency, and honor in the dealings of the national government with her citizens, and with other nations. It meant honest money. But chiefly and primarily it meant a rebuke to those states in the south which, by barbarous force, and fraud, and intimidation, are subverting the rights of men. It struck a blow at the bull-dozing of Louisiana, the terrorism of Mississippi, and the rifle-clubbing of South Carolina. It was a stern and implacable reprobation of those unlawful proceedings by which a minority of the voting population of some of the southern states were deprived of the dearest rights known to men. It was a notice villain nies should cease. It was the deliberate mandamus, issued by the uniform voice of a great people, the suspension of these infringements upon the liberties of the people.

It will be well if the south heeds this grave warning. The northern Democrats, themselves, do not dare to defend these black outrages before their constituencies. There is probably not a Democratic constituency in the whole north, which would return a member of Congress who dared openly to defend Wade Hampton and his rifle club myrmidons in South Carolina, and the iniquitous proceedings by which they have recently carried every county but one, in a State where there was an unquestioned Republican majority of 30,000. If they desire to concentrate the whole north against them, they have the opportunity. They have, indeed, made the opportunity already, and, in this uprising of the people, have an indication of what may come in the future. The American people, when appealed to, will determine to vindicate and defend the rights and liberties of those who are equal citizens with them.

RUSSELL'S ELECTION.

Among the first things which may be mentioned in regard to the late election, is the fact that it was relieved of any unpleasant personalities. While Mr. Canaday was in the field, he made no speeches, and Mr. Waddell's name was hardly mentioned in these columns. When Judge Russell took the field, as the sole candidate of the Republicans, any discussion, which related to either candidate, was confined to their public acts; which are legitimate subjects of public criticism. Thus the speeches did not evolve that personal bitterness which too often characterizes these affairs.

Judge Russell was elected (1st) because he received all the Republican vote which was cast, (2nd) such Greenbackers as regularly came under that name, and a comparatively small number of Democrats, and (3d) because a large number of Democrats failed to vote at all. Of course, the great bulk of this vote was Republican, impelled towards him by the momentum of Mr. Canaday's canvass, and the fact that Judge Russell's name had become familiar as a leading Republican.

Therefore, those of that class who voted for him, regard his election as a Republican victory, won mainly by the Republicans, as according to a policy voluntarily adopted by them. There was a very broad division line between the two men—Russell and Waddell. Judge Russell had constantly appeared before this people as the unflinching advocate and defender of the measures and principles of the Republican party since the war. Mr. Waddell, after he took his seat in Congress, had constantly acted and voted with those who were thwarting and embarrassing the purposes of the government, and had made himself distinctly a pupil of the modern school of southern Democrats. The difference between the attitude of the two men was so distinct that it required but little reflection on the part of Republicans to make a choice between the two. And inasmuch as the choice laid between the two, they voted, as a matter of course, for Russell, who was the most palatable to them, even though he had been freshly baptized into the vagaries of an irredeemable currency. Thus they have secured a representative who will, in all other respects, undoubtedly, be satisfactory to them. These conclusions were the more readily arrived at from the fact that most of us believe that the freedom of the ballot and the restoration of the rights of a million voters in the southern states, is a question paramount to all others, inasmuch as it involves the rights of all American citizens.

From the action of a large number of democrats in the district, we are led to believe that they thought very much as the Republicans did. In the counties of Brunswick, New Hanover, Pender and Moore, for instance, Waddell received, at this election, only 3,281 votes, as against 5,263, which he received in the same counties in 1876. The same rate of falling off, carried through the district, would leave him only about 10,500 votes, as against the 17,524 which were counted to him two years ago. This is a falling off which is at once sad to Mr. Waddell, and unaccountable to others, being a voluntary absence from the polls of about 7,000 Democratic voters. There are in these facts a good deal of food for reflection. And while the event may let a little light upon that mythical vote of 1876, which had, in two years, leaped up to the tune of 3,481, by some means not yet accounted for, to us who have all the while been anxious enquirers, it may also demonstrate to those enthusiasts who have been proclaiming that the Republican party was dead, that it is still a very lively corpse.

How it Was Done.

In order that our readers may judge of the character of the speeches delivered in the recent canvass in the northern states, we copy what may be considered a specimen. The following are extracts from a speech delivered by the Hon. William E. Chandler, at Stratford, New Hampshire:

With Gov. Boutwell, I say that "the central idea of all my politics is, that in a free government a party that is not true to human rights will be finally powerless to protect any other interest." To be thus true, the Republican party has solemnly and repeatedly pledged itself. The resolutions of the Cincinnati convention, on which President Hayes was elected, and of every recent convention of New Hampshire, have declared, to use the language of the state convention of 1877, "that the United States government is bound to maintain and protect each and every citizen in the full, free, and open exercise of every right and privilege appertaining to citizenship."

Is this pledge fulfilled while murder and intimidation are a regular part of the Southern system of elections? In at least six of the Southern States there have been and will be Republican majorities wherever untrammelled political speech and action and a free ballot are secured. The colored voters know they received freedom and suffrage for their race from the Republican party, and they will vote with that party unless forcibly prevented. With their votes freely cast, Mississippi and South Carolina would each give in November 30,000 majority for the Republican party and its candidates. Why, then, are these majorities trampled down and made of no effect?

From South Carolina, even while we are here assembled, comes the information that the 30,000 Republican majority is to be broken down, and Wade Hampton, elected Governor, as he was in 1876, by murder and by outrages committed by mounted, armed, and drunken Democrats.

Imagine this Republican meeting to be treated as similar gatherings in South Carolina now are. Suppose two or three hundred Democratic bullies, mounted and armed, had paraded the streets of Stratford, drinking, yelling, and firing off their guns, and had then invaded this hall, exhibiting their guns and pistols, uttering deadly threats, demanding for their speakers half the time of the meeting, and designedly, by violence, prevenating all free utterances by the Republicans. We know the effect of such proceedings in South Carolina, but thank heaven it would be different in free New Hampshire. There would be no dissolution of this meeting, nor would there be any peaceful discussion, such as we have had of the subjects of currency and finance. A question of greater moment than that of money and its uses; a battle for man and his liberty, for freedom of speech, and full, free, and open political action, would arise and be fought out to a successful issue, because every patriotic citizen would feel that an assault had been upon a vital principle of the Republic, which must be resisted and overcome at once and at any sacrifice.

Fellow Republicans: these things shall not much longer be. Stand by the Republican party, and when it has fulfilled its evident but lesser duty of making every paper dollar as the country wants it good as gold and silver it will again, in spite of heartless sneers take up its burden, however disagreeable or heavy it may be, of maintaining and enforcing human rights and free politics all over the nation. Already the incubus that for more than a year has weighed like a nightmare upon the Republican brain and heart and conscience is lifted. No more is Wade Hampton proclaimed as a great and good and patriotic man; but he again stands forth as the perfidious, bloody butcher that the high-toned, chivalrous Southern is so apt to show himself to be when Republican victory over [illegible]. No more are unrepentant [illegible] rebels told that they are to be [illegible] for their treason to the Union and their war upon the flag, and to be [illegible] and discharged from indictment and trial for political murders of our brother Republicans. Henceforth they are to be told that they are to obey law, or to be punished for their disobedience; and in 1880 a Republican victory will be again achieved, under a leader who will not only proclaim the dangers of a "solid South and rebel rule," but whose election will surely secure, in fact as well as in name, universal liberty, free speech and political action, and unintimidated suffrage, everywhere under the flag of the Union. Thus and thus only can the Republic be saved from dangers worse than battles, and made perpetual.

WILFUL MISREPRESENTATION.

Have you forgotten the influx of seedy adventurers from the the North—those wolves and vampires that came to prey upon and suck up the life-blood of the people? Have you forgotten how they got possession of the Legislature, and how, aided and abated by unworthy and scandalous natives, they created tens of millions of dollars of public debt, deliberately stealing the funds and robbing and oppressing the people?—Wil. Star.

The following are the palpable falsehoods in the above extract:

1st. That the carpet-baggers "came to prey upon and such the life-blood of the people."

2nd, That the carpet-baggers were "seedy adventurers."

3rd. That "they got possession of the Legislature."

4th. That they were "deliberately stealing the funds and robbing and oppressing the people."

We assert and can prove that the "carpet-baggers" who came to this state directly after the war brought with them more than $1,000,000; that not a single one of them came with less than $1,000 in money; that they constituted only one seventh of the Legislature of 1868; that every single issue of bonds were issued at the instigation of natives and Democrats; and that every dollar of those bonds went into the hands of native Democrats except in the case of two railroads. The names of the Democrats who received these bonds were Col. R. H. Cowan of this city, Gen. Stubbs of Williamstown, William Johnston of Charlotte, E. Belo of Salem, H. Mallett of Fayetteville, Dr. Hawkins of Raleigh, and Geo. W. Swepson of Raleigh. The two native Republicans who received bonds were William Sloane, of Charlotte and Andrew Jones of Bladen.

For twelve long years vile slanders like the above have been reiterated in regard to the northern men who settled in this state after the war. There never was a more wretched and miserable slander perpetrated upon a class of men in a civilized country. And these stories are now reiterated by a set of impecunious wretches whose chief business it was to borrow money of carpet-baggers and never pay it.

NORTH CAROLINA.

The Congressional delegation of this state will stand 6 Democrats to 2 Republicans and Greenbackers so far as heard from. The Democrats elected are Yeates from the first district, Davis from the fourth, Scales from the fifth, and Armfield from the seventh, Steele from the sixth and Vance from the eighth had no opposition.

O'Hara, colored, Republican, is elected from the second district, and Russell, Greenback Republican, from the third.

It may turn out that Martin, Republican, is elected from the first district, although it is not probable.

Jesse J. Cassidey, Esq., formerly a citizen among us, and who used to make things quite lively by his antiquarian researches, and who especially inquired into the causes which produced the increase of votes in Mr. Waddell's district of 3,481 from 1874 to 1876, would find more extensive field of inquiry now if he were to hold a sort of post mortem in regard to the 7,000 Democratic votes which have demised. The vote of '76 came up suddenly and spectrally, and has now vanished in a manner so ghostly as to demand an explanation. The spectre which was suddenly present in 1876, has now as suddenly vanished in 1878. Possibly Col. Wheeler, our venerable historian might take the subject of evanescent votes in hand and solve the mystery.

An Italian princess who is about to be married has had her trousseau made in Paris. In order to let her know how to wear her dresses and what to wear under them, the dressmaker has sent with each toilet a little doll attired from head to foot exactly as the lady herself should be dressed; shoes, stockings, skirts, head dress, gloves and every detail being reproduced in the costume of the doll.

WHIRLWIND AT THE NORTH.

Republican Gains Everywhere.

Latest election returns have a uniform tendency to emphasize the Republican victory won on Tuesday. In New York eight Republican Congressmen have been gained, there is a Republican majority of over 70 on joint ballot in the Legislature, and the Republican State ticket has about 15,000 majority. Cooper's majority over Schell for Mayor is nearly 20,000.

New Jersey leaves the Congressional delegation five Republicans and two Democrats. The Republicans have gained three districts and lost one. The Legislature has a Republican majority of seven on joint ballot.

In Pennsylvania the Republican plurality for Governor is thought likely to reach 21,000. The Republicans claim a gain of two Congressmen, and an increased majority in the Legislature.

In Massachusetts Talbot's plurality is already over 25,000 and is expected to reach 26,000. The report of the election of a Greenbacker to Congress was erroneous and the delegation will stand ten Republicans and one Democrat.

A remarkable Republican victory has been secured in New Hampshire. Natt Head's majority for Governor is over 1,000, the Republicans have a majority of 64 on joint ballot in the Legislature, and have elected a solid delegation to Congress.

Rhode Island Republican by 4,000.

In Connecticut there is no election of Governor by the people, but the Legislature is Republican by a strong majority, and we have gained three members of Congress including Gen. Hawley.

Illinois has gone Republican by not less than 25,000 majority on the State ticket; that the Republicans have gained Congressmen in the IId and XVIIIth Districts, and lost one in the XIIIth by 500 majority, a net gain of one member; and that the Republicans will have a small majority in each branch of the Legislature.

Kansas has gone Republican overwhelmingly—all the members of Congress and the Legislature.

Michigan has gone Republican by 40,000 majority, electing a solid Republican delegation to Congress.

Minnesota has elected a solid Republican delegation to Congress.

In Maryland the Republicans gain one member.

Nevada elects its Republican State ticket, a legislature and its member of Congress.

The South has gone nearly solid under the lead of shot-gun, rifle-clubs and bull-dozing.

An unpleasant rumor is afloat that the Jefferson Nail Works at Steubenville, Ohio, the largest manufacturing establishment in that region, giving employment to 700 hands, is about to suspend operations for the Winter. The mill-owners have asked the nailers to stand a reduction of 20 per cent, claiming that there is no market. A number of coal works have shut down entirely. Others are running on half time.

THE WASHINGTON LETTER

THE NORTH SOLID—THE SOUTH SOLID—WHAT IT MEANS—NO BRAG LEFT IN THE DEMOCRATS—RANDALL'S FRIENDS SAY HE IS THE "DARK HORSE" OF THE DEMOCRACY—DID THE ADMINISTRATION AID IN HIS ELECTION?

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7, 1878.

At this time of writing enough is known to tell the results of one of the most remarkable political contests that has occurred since the war. The October elections ended with a loss of ten members of Congress to the Republicans. They also shewed that the new third party was strong enough to make the November elections contain more unknown quantities than were pleasant for the leaders of either of the old parties to contemplate. Never before was there so much doubt about the result. The advantages seemed to be with the opposition to the Republican party. There was only one thing to be done by its leaders. It was to place the party on the ground of the highest principle and save its honor at all events. Again we are made to feel that right is might.

Democrats, here, claim that they are certain of twenty-four majority in the House. On the other hand Republicans make these figures: Democrats, 143; Republicans, 140; Greenbackers, 6. Later returns may vary them, but not materially. Be the exact figures what they may, the November elections have resulted in overwhelming victories for us in all the northern states where they were held, and here in Washington, Republicans know that they have determined these points.

1. There will be no large third party in the Presidential contest of 1880 with the possible result of throwing the election into the House. But there will be a square, stand-up fight between the Republican party on the one hand and the Democrats on the other.

2. There will be but two principal issues in the coming struggle. The first will be honest money, and good faith toward the nation's creditors, be they who they may. The second one will be a practically solid north arrayed in favor of these principles against the already solid south, allied to the worst political elements of the north, in opposition to them.

3. This sectional issue has been forced upon the people of the north by merciless proscription of all Republicans, and the total disregard of all the sanctities of the right of suffrage in such states as South Carolina, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas and Texas.

4. It is the verdict of the people of the north on the question of fraud in the election of 1876.

5. The Democrats are powerless, notwithstanding their control of the Senate, to pass any obnoxious legislation over the President's veto.

The brag is all taken out of the Democrats here. Recrimination is the order of the day among them. One prominent Democrat, a warm personal friend of speaker Randall, cursed the men who forced the Potter investigation both loud and long. To it he ascribed all the Democratic woes. They had confidential expected to carry New York. Of Connecticut and New Jersey, they were absolutely sure. The loss of the first state they place to the credit of Tilden, and of the two latter to the Greenbackers. Of Pennsylvania they have not a word to say. The truth is they did not expect to carry the state ticket. Randall had beaten senator Wallace in the state convention, and Wallace's friends made up their minds to let Randall elect the ticket he had made. But they all united in endeavoring to carry doubtful congressional districts. The result is a probable Republican gain of three members. Randall's friends here are elected on his slightly increased majority in his district. This is about what they say: "Tilden has aided in beating Tammany, the only regular Democratic organization in New York, thereby giving the state to the Republicans. The Democrats outside of New York have no use for a man who will throw away his state to gratify his desire for personal wrongs. They have no use for a man who always ciphers for himself. New York is lost to the Democrats. She cannot expect to furnish a candidate for the Presidency in 1880. In the west Thurman and Hendricks are eating each other up. The candidate cannot come from the south. Therefore he must come from the east. If he is taken from any state it must be from one which the candidate can carry, and whose influence will be felt in the electoral college. Randall, if nominated, could carry Pennsylvania. He will be the most acceptable man after Thurman and Hendricks are out of the way. He is the only man who could be elected. It is a pretty programme, and would be entirely acceptable to Republicans. Yet there is no blind a struggle in Pennsylvania between Randall and senator Wallace as between Tilden and Tammany in New York.

One of the inexplicable things to Republicans here is the means by which Randall has secured from the administration complete control of the navy yard in Philadelphia. Had the patronage of that place been used half as vigorously against him as it has been for him he would have been defeated as sure as the sun went down on election day.

That we shall elect our ticket in 1880 is as certain as anything can be, in this world.

H. C. F.

A story is going the rounds in Washington concerning Tilden's propensity for secrecy. A gentlemen who used to know him well is represented as saying he once called upon Tilden in Gramercy Park. The old gentleman met him in the parlor, took him into an adjoining room, shut the door carefully behind them, and leading him into the furthest corner, put his mouth close to his ear and began to whisper to him, though there was no one in the room except themselves. This may be a clew to his innocence about those ciphers—perhaps he was whispering to somebody in that back room all the time.

Monsignore Asinari, a distinguished Roman Catholic prelate, who was at one time Papal Nuncio at Brussels, has recently died at Rome. He was a man of a wonderfully lovely character, and of extraordinary truthfulness and uprightness, of which qualities the Fanfulla gives the following instance: On his way back to Rome after he had fulfilled his mission in Brussels, his carriage was stopped by brigands near Viterbo. After they had pretty thoroughly rifled the persons of the prelate and his attendants, the chief asked him if he had anything more. "Joseph," said the bishop, turning to his servant, "did you give him the money that you had hidden?" alluding to £8,000 in gold which had been concealed in a bottom of a trunk, amid a lot of soiled linen. The worthy man considered it a crime to lie, even to a brigand.

Mr. Gladstone like every other public man makes a point of answering every letter that is sent to him, and whatever he writes, no matter how formal or trivial, is published forthwith. The editor of an agricultural paper wrote a note to him a few weeks ago, asking him whether he had ever been in America. Mr. Gladstone answered in five words: "I regret to reply—never." These five words were published without delay in the weekly paper, and reprinted by the provincial press.

The Republican papers in North Carolina, and the places they are published at, are as follows:—

Register, Raleigh; Carolinian, Elizabeth City; Spirit of the South, Rockingham; American, Statesville; New State, Greensboro; Pioneer, Asheville; Republican, Winston; POST, Wilmington.

N. H. Cain, of Fayette C. H., Ala., says: "I gave DR. HARTER'S FEVER & AGUE SPECIFIC to my little daughter, who was a mere skeleton from the effects of ague, she is now well and a new child. My wife suffered eight months from Chills and Fever; nothing did her any good until she commenced using DR. HARTER'S FEVER AND AGUE SPECIFIC, which cured her at once.

An Undeniable Truth.

You deserve to suffer, and if you lead a miserable, unsatisfactory life in this beautiful world, it is entirely your own fault and there is only one excuse for you,—your unreasonable prejudice and skepticism, which has killed thousands. Personal knowledge and common sense reasoning will soon show you that Green's August Flower will cure you of Liver Complaint, or Dyspepsia, with all its miserable effects, such as sick headache, palpitation of the heart, sour stomach, habitual costiveness, dizziness of the head, nervous prostration, low spirits, &c. Its sales now reach every town on the Western Continent and not a druggist but will tell you of its wonderful cures. You can buy a sample bottle for ten cents. Three doses will relieve you.

It is a principle in hygienics that a torpid liver is a cause of fatal derangements of the physical organism, The blood, the bone, the muscles, the nerves all sympathize with this more prominent organ. Failure to obey its functions in the one is rebellion in every remote tissue. As a consequence, disease follows the slightest apathy or refusal of the liver to perform its part. Abnormal condition here for any length of time is death. To induce a normal state, no medicine is more positively adapted than Dr. Sanford's Liver Invigorator. This is not advertisement, but fact. We have used the Doctor's valuable medicine in our family for twenty years. We know him to be a physician of over thirty years' continuous practice, and that he has used the medicine in that practice. If the thousands of poor, miserable, sallow looking, dyspeptic victims we meet every day would use Dr. Sanford's Liver Invigorator, they would recover health. What more can be said?—The Working Church, New York.

DR. HARTER'S LIVER PILLS produce activity in the billiary organs, without any violent purgative effect. They are at once the mildest and most effective cathartic.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

The reputation it has attained, in consequence of the marvellous cures it has produced during the last half century, is a sufficient assurance to the public that it will continue to realize the happiest results that can be desired. In almost every section of country there are persons, publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs, by its use. All who have tried it acknowledge its superiority; and where its virtues are known, no one hesitates as to what medicine to employ to relieve the distress and suffering peculiar to pulmonary affections. CHERRY PECTORAL always affords instant relief, and performs rapid cures of the milder varieties of bronchial disorder, as well as the more formidable diseases of the lungs.

As a safeguard to children, amid the distressing diseases which beset the Throat and Chest of Childhood, it is invaluable; for, by its timely use, multitudes are rescued and restored to health.

This medicine gains friends at every trial, as the cures it is constantly producing are too remarkable to be forgotten. No family should be without it, and those who have once used it never will.

Eminent Physicians throughout the country prescribe it, and Clergymen often recommend it from their knowledge of its effects.

OLD, TRIED, AND TRUE.

People are getting acquainted—and those who are not ought to be—with the wonderful merits of that great American Remedy, the

MEXICAN Mustang Liniment,

FOR MAN AND BEAST.

This liniment very naturally originated in America, where Nature provides in her laboratory such surprising antidotes for the maladies of her children. Its fame has been spreading for 30 years, until now it encircles the habitable globe.

The Mexican Mustang Liniment is a medicine entirely free from external influences of man and beast.

To such owners and farmers it is invaluable.

A single bottle often saves a human life or removes the necessity of an excellent horse, ox, cow, or sheep.

It cures Foot-rot, Hoof-ail, hollow horn, grub, screw-worm, shoulder-vet, mange, the bites and stings of poisonous reptiles and insects, and every such disorder to stock breeding and bush life.

It cures every external trouble of horses, such as lameness, scratches, swinny, sprains, founder, wind-gall, ring-bone, etc., etc.

The Mexican Mustang Liniment is the quickest cure in the world for accidents occurring in the family, in the absence of a physician, such as burns, scalds, sprains, cuts, etc., and for rheumatism, and stiffness engendered by exposure. Particularly valuable to Miners.

It is the cheapest remedy in the world, for it penetrates the muscle to the bone, and a single application is generally sufficient to cure.

The Mexican Mustang Liniment is put up in three sizes of bottles, the larger ones being proportionately much the cheapest. Sold everywhere.

THE WILMINGTON POST.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

SUNDAY MORNING, Nov. 10, 1878.

IMMENSE STRAWBERRIES.

Pleasure and Profit in the Garden.

A number of the newer varieties have already been described, but there are still others that form such a marked contrast to the common varieties, as also to render them deserving of mention. Many persons are probably not aware of the vast difference that there is between the different varieties of this fruit. The contrast is almost as decided as in the case of apples or pears—ranging from a very light pink or bright scarlet color to a very dark red, or almost black. Then, in the matter of size, there are some varieties that never furnish berries any larger than half or three-fourths of an inch in diameter; while some of the newer kinds have yielded specimens with a measurement of nine and even twelve inches in circumference. There are other points that might be noted, such as richness of flavor of the fruit, early or late ripening, or productiveness of the plants, so that one who makes the strawberry, a study ever finds something new to occupy and interest his attention Those who have hitherto limited themselves to only one or two varieties, would be surprised to find how much pleasure and recreation can be obtained from a larger assortment.

GREAT PROLIFIC—This beautiful new berry gives promise of becoming a very general favorite, as it possesses a combination of qualities that few varieties can boast of. Its unusual productiveness is, perhaps, as noticeable as any of these, as it has been more than once remarked by visitors, that the berries look as if they had been heaped up around the plants from baskets, in such profusion are they sometimes grown. The fruit averages quite large in size, is of a fine red color, and among the best in quality. As the plants thrive finely here on warm sandy soils, I am led to believe that it will also prove a desirable variety at the South.

CRESCENT SEEDLING—This variety though not yielding as large berries as the previous one, yet also lays claim to being a very prrductive variety. The unusual number of quarts of fruit that the plants have produced, has already been noted in the press of the country, but it may be again stated, that it has been at the rate of over 14,000 quarts to the acre. The plants have the merit of yielding abundantly, even when growing thickly in matted rows, which is the case with very few varieties. A number of my correspondents, in different parts of the South, to whom I sent plants, by mail, last fall, also report that the Crescent Seedling succeeds finely with them, so that it promises to give satisfaction, both at the North and South.

PRESIDENT LINCOLN—Is a variety that stands in the very foremost rank, in point of size. The berries are very distinct in appearance from the others, being of a rich dark color, and frequently of a flattened shape. Some specimens have measured seven or eight inches around, and fully eleven inches in circumference. It does not require many of such berries to make quite a delightful feast. The plants are vigorous and produce quite abundantly.

CAPTAIN JACK AND MONARCH OF THE WEST—Seem to give good satisfaction at the South, and a number of my correspondents have planted them out very extensively—especially in the States of Florida, Mississippi and Texas. The Captain Jack is excellent for shipping to distant markets, while the other seems better adapted to local fruit stands. ESSEX BEAUTY, CUMBERLAND, TRIUMPH, BOYDEN, No. 30 and DUCHESSE are also giving good satisfaction, while SENECA QUEEN, PIONEER, SHARPLESS and CENTENNIAL FAVORITE, it is thought, will also prove adapted to the southern soil.

In making plantations of Strawberries, it is well to have the ground deeply spaded or ploughed, and well enriched. If the plants are set out in November, they will give quite a crop of fruit by the following spring, and will frequently yield berries of the largest size within four or five months from the time of planting. Frequent cultivation or stirring of the soil, within six inches of the plants, is quite an assistance in obtaining these large berries.

Sarsaparilla

For Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Erysipelas, Rose or St. Anthony's Fire, Eruptions and Eruptive diseases of the Skin, Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Blotches, Tumors, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers, Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa, arising from internal ulceration, and uterine disease, Syphilitic and Mercurial diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, General Debility, and for Purifying the Blood.

This Sarsaparilla is a combination of vegetable alteratives—Stillingia, Mandrake, Yellow Dock—with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron, and is the most efficacious medicine yet known for the diseases it is intended to cure.

Its ingredients are so skillfully combined that the full alterative effect of each is assured, and while it is so mild as to be harmless even to children, it is still so effectual as to purge out from the system those impurities and corruptions which develop into loathsome disease.

The reputation it enjoys is derived from its cures, and the confidence which prominent physicians all over the country repose in it proves their experience of its usefulness.

Certificates attesting its virtues have accumulated, and are constantly being received, and as many of these cases are publicly known, they furnish convincing evidence of the superiority of this Sarsaparilla over every other alterative medicine. So generally is its superiority to any other medicine known that we need do no more than to assure the public that the best qualities it has ever possessed are strictly maintained.
